

Chaminade University of Honolulu
3140 Waialae Avenue
Honolulu, Hawaii 96816

CJA 432 j17
Law Enforcement in the U.S.
Instructor: Wilson Sullivan

SYLLABUS AND COURSE OUTLINE

1999

RECEIVED

OCT 27 1999

CLASS MEETINGS

Class meetings will be held on Saturdays from 0800 to 1210 at Yano Hall, Schofield ^{CU} Barracks.

REQUIRED TEXT

Text used: Policing America, Methods, Issues, Challenges by Kenneth J. Peak
Prentice Hall Publishing Company, 1997, Second Edition

OBJECTIVES

This is an undergraduate course examining significant and controversial criminal justice topics, involving law enforcement agencies, primarily the police, clarifying, interpreting, and identifying the role of discretion in the system.

ASSIGNMENTS

Students will be required to read assigned material prior to coming to class. Attendance is mandatory as is class participation. Each missed class equals a loss of two points for that exam period. Students are expected to participate in class discussions of materials.

ADDITIONAL MATERIALS

Students are encouraged to bring magazine and newspaper articles and other materials covering the course objectives. This material will be discussed in class which should add to the overall enjoyment of the class. There will be a few short films as well as other visual aids.

EXAMINATIONS

There will be two examinations administered during this course. The first will be a mid-term examination given at the half-way point and the second a final examination administered at the end of the course. Examinations will cover the material found in the required texts. Additional material used by the instructor for clarification purposes will not be included in the examinations.

EXTRA CREDIT ASSIGNMENTS

Students experiencing difficulty are encouraged to consult with the instructor concerning additional work to elevate their grade. Students should also be aware that active class participation will be a consideration in grading.

CONSULTATION

The instructor will be available for consultation prior to class as well as by arranged times or via the telephone. I may be contacted at the following telephone numbers:

Office: 537-4224 (Forensic Services)
Home: 623-6504
FAX: 627-0871
E-MAIL: ForensicServices @att.net

I may be contacted at the office or home number during the day, usually seven days a week. If I am out, there is an answering machine on both numbers. Be sure to leave your name, telephone number and message when calling.

COURSE OUTLINE

October 9, 1999	Introduction to course expectations Chapter One Historical Development
October 16, 1999	Chapter Two Policing Levels, Roles, and Functions Chapter Three Police Subculture: The Making of a Cop
October 23, 1999	Chapter Four Organization and Administration
October 30, 1999	Chapter Five On Patrol: Personnel, Methods, Functions Review for midterm examination
November 6, 1999	IIID-TERM MINA Chapter Six Intelligence & Investigation
November 13, 1999	Chapter Seven Extraordinary Problems and Methods Chapter Eight Police, Courts, and the Rule of Law
November 20, 1999	Chapter Nine Accountability: Attacking Corruption and Excessive Force Chapter Ten Civil Liability: The Outgrowth of Failure
November 27, 1999	Chapter Eleven Stress: Personal Cost of Doing the Job Chapter Twelve Comparative Perspectives
December 4, 1999	Chapter Thirteen Police and the Future Chapter Fourteen Careers in Policing Review for Final Examination
December 11, 1999	