Textbook: Weinreb L.L. Leading Constitutional Cases of Criminal Justice. Foundation Press: New York. 2012 Edition.

Objective: This is an examination of the issues currently faced by the criminal justice system focusing on contemporary issues which are projected to have a major impact upon the quality of life for the community and the ability of the criminal justice system to provide to the community. (Catalog Description).

Grading: Grades will be based on the following:

Attendance/Discussions/Participation (20%)	A = 90 - 100
Assignments (30%)	B = 89 - 90
Research Paper & Presentation (30%)	C = 79 - 70
Exams/Quizzes (20%)	D = 69 - 60
	F = 59 - 50

Attendance: Attendance is mandatory, essential, and will fall within school guidelines -- meaning it will and can affect your final grade. If you do not attend for a two week period, which means you missed 20% of class, you will likely fail the class or be asked to withdraw. Repeated tardies will also result in a reduced grade or overall failure (two tardies equals one absence). It is your responsibility to contact the instructor if you will not be attending class prior to class at which time assignments due and future assignments will be discussed.

ADA Accommodations: Any accommodations requested under the American Disability Act must be conducted through the Counseling Center prior to the start of the course.

Class Participation: Each student is expected to participate during class/group discussions and be respectful of opinions that others may have.

Assignments: Application is key to comprehension. Be prepared. The purpose of assignments (questions, articles, and case briefs) is to demonstrate understanding, writing skills, and provoke thought. All assignments are to be typed, using 12 point font, one inch margins, and be double spaced. Please have your name in the upper left hand corner along with the date the assignment was due. Late assignments will be accepted on a case by case basis and must be discussed with the instructor prior to the due date.

Article Reaction Papers: Each week, you will submit one article reaction paper. There are two parts to the paper: summary and your reaction. The articles must relate to the topics/chapters of the week, demonstrate the class objective, and must be within the past five years. The length of your reaction paper varies with emphasis being on the content. The source of your article must be provided and it's degree of reliability will be evaluated. Late assignments are accepted on a case-by-case basis and must be discussed with the instructor prior to the due date.

Research Paper: The topic of your paper will reflect the class objectives and must be approved by the instructor at the onset of class. The format of your paper must be APA with a minimum of five pages. There is no maximum. You must use a minimum of three resources. You will be graded on knowledge of the topic, analysis, resources used, presentation, and the ability to abide by the stated structure. Resources will be reviewed to determine reliability and credibility.

You will present your findings to your peers. The preference for the presentations is power point and the like. However, if you feel a different method would be more appropriate or effective, please feel free to discuss it with the instructor prior.

Any paper that is plagiarized will result in an automatic failure for the class. Late papers will be accepted on a case by case basis and must be discussed with the instructor prior to the due date.

Exams: Two exams given, midterm and final that will consist of multiple choice, true/false and short answer questions.

Academic Policies: Students are expected to comply with the standards related to academic honesty and plagiarism that are stated in the Chaminade General Catalog. Failure to adhere to these policies can result in a failing grade.

Classroom Decorum: No cell phone use or texting during class. Unless it's an emergency, do not answer your phone or respond to a text. Any electronic devices used during class must be for course work only and discussed with the instructor prior to its use.
