Personal & Public Speech is an introductory class in the realm of verbal and nonverbal communication. Over the course of the semester, you will be introduced to concepts and skills relating to: intrapersonal, interpersonal, and nonverbal communication; group discussion; informative speaking; persuasive speaking; and the power and uses of language.

By the completion of this class, you should have a clear understanding of

- the process of communication
- ways in which to increase your effectiveness as a communicator
- productive methods of handling conflict
- strategies for the preparation and presentation of public addresses

Grading:

Attendance/Participation	20 points

Since a healthy percentage of your grade is derived from attendance and participation, the importance of your enthusiasm should be self-evident. With only 10 weeks to cover our allotted material, each of us must make a concerted effort to keep abreast of assigned readings and exercises.

You will need to buy either a small spiral notebook or small binder for your journal. Your journal is an ongoing record of your experiences with the exercises in the text. I will collect them the week before your midterm exam, return them the following week, and collect them again at the end of class.

You will also need to purchase 1 blank VHS tape and bring it to every speech you present. Part of your grade will be a self evaluation of your performance, due the class period following your presentation.

Any scheduling conflicts you experience should be brought to my attention as soon as possible.
