Course Requirements:

Readings

Readings will be assigned each week to frame our discussion in class. It is vital that the deadlines are followed so that there is genuine class discussion and an opportunity for peer review and learning. The readings will come primarily from the assigned course texts; however, there will be occasions in which additional readings will be required.

Assignments

Students will complete a number of assignments based on the assigned readings and develop assessment instruments incorporating the strategies discussed in class. The specifics of these assignments are outlined on the following pages.

Collegiality & Professionalism

We will create an open environment where diverse opinions, viewpoints, and perspectives are appreciated and respected. As we perfect the art of teaching, we should be conscious of the fact that our craft can (and should) be approached from multiple perspectives.

Course Communication

Email is the best way to reach me with questions about course assignments or policies. I will answer all emails by the next school day (usually within 24 hours, though weekends may take longer).

Grading:

Assignments should be turned in on the due date noted on the course Canvas page or otherwise indicated in class; late assignments will negatively impact your grade in the course.

Late assignments will lose a minimum of 10%, possibly more depending on how many days late the assignment is turned in. Due to the time-sensitive nature of discussions, late discussion posts will lose a minimum of 50%. Discussion posts that are more than one week late will not receive credit.

Descriptions of all assignments along with scoring rubrics are available on the course Canvas page. Letter grades for the course will be determined by the following formula:

Weekly Assignments and Reflections	300 Points
VoiceThread Discussions	300 Points
Unit / Lesson Concept	60 Points
Total:	660 Points

Letter grades are defined as follows:

A (660-594 points)	B (593-528 points)	C (527-462 points)	D (461-396 points)	F (395-0 points)
-----------------------	-----------------------	-----------------------	-----------------------	---------------------

Course Policies:

You will participate in online discussions each week using the free software VoiceThread. Instructions on how to create a VoiceThread account will be provided through Canvas. These discussions are the central component of the course and participation is required. The purpose is not to prove that you have completed the reading and they are not simple summarization exercises to earn course credit. Instead, the discussion boards are our link as a community of scholars. They are a space to explore the texts, to ask questions, to challenge assumptions – ultimately, they are a place to grow as learners and as teachers. Please give these discussions the respect they deserve and check in frequently for updates.

Each week you need to make a minimum of three discussion posts.

- Your initial response to each prompt is due by 11:59pm every Wednesday. Your posts should be substantive, thought provoking, and refer to the assigned readings where appropriate.
- You are also required to post a reply to one of your classmates' comments by 11:59pm on Friday, and a reply to a second comment by 11:59p Sunday. Your replies should ask questions, provide counterpoints, or move the conversation in a new direction.

Discussion responses will be graded within one week of submission. Please check Canvas for feedback on your discussion posts and incorporate this feedback into your future posts.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON LATE DISCUSSION ASSIGNMENTS:

The success of the course rests in large part on the quality of these discussions. Without time to read and respond to your peers, our shared classroom community (and the possibilities for learning therein) will suffer. As a result, late discussion posts will receive at most 50% credit. Posts that are more than one week late will receive no credit.

Attendance:

As stated in the Chaminade University catalog, students are expected to attend all classes for courses in which they are registered. The instructor will specify and enforce expectations for online participation and receipt of assignments appropriate to the design of the course.
