Description

“Hard times are coming, when we’ll be wanting the voices of writers who can see alternatives to how we live now, can see through our fear-stricken society and its obsessive technologies to other ways of being, and even imagine real grounds for hope. We’ll need writers who can remember freedom—poets, visionaries—realists of a larger reality.”

Ursula K. Le Guin, at the 2014 National Book Awards

This introductory literature course surveys classical, modern, and contemporary short stories and novels from around the world. Our guiding theme this semester will be American novelist Ursula K. Le Guin’s call for “realists of a larger reality.” In heeding Le Guin’s call, we will be reading several recent works of alternate history, a subgenre of science fiction and fantasy that offers a critique of the present (as well as glimpses of a possible future) through an alternate version of the past. As we read together this semester, we will be focusing on the Marianist characteristic of service, justice, and peace and the integrity of creation.

Required Texts

No ebook editions will be allowed in this class. You are required to purchase or rent the paper editions of the following books:

- Colson Whitehead, The Underground Railroad
- R. F. Kuang, Babel
- P. Djèlí Clark, A Master of Djinn

You will also need the following supplies:

- college-ruled notebook with three-prong punched and perforated pages
- 1” three-ring binder
- black or blue pen

Please note that you will be expected to write in your books. Here is the CUH bookstore’s policy on acceptable use of rental books:

“Can I mark up the inside of the book with a highlighter or make notes in the margins? Normal use of highlighting and writing is permitted. The bookstore will use the same standards for determining acceptable condition of rental textbooks that it uses for determining condition of books sold back as used books.”

General Education Learning Outcome

Students will evaluate and articulate the social, environmental and ethical dimensions of service, justice, and peace in the context of their particular course and field or discipline of study (Education for Service, Justice, and Peace and the Integrity of Creation).

Course Learning Outcomes

Students who complete this course will:

- Define the elements of fiction and literary terms used to discuss them.
- Read and analyze literary texts using the elements of fiction.
- Situate and explain literary texts within their socio-historical contexts.
- Describe the characteristics of the genres of literature.
- Combine and apply interpretive skills in order to participate in class discussions of literary texts.
- Write unified, coherent, well-developed essays about literary texts.

Marianist Characteristics

Chaminade is a Marianist Institution and uses the following characteristics as a guide:

1. Educate for Formation in Faith
2. Integral Quality Education
3. Educate in the Family Spirit
4. Service, Justice, and Peace and the Integrity of Creation
5. Adaptation and Change

Requirements

- Attendance = 20%
- Participation (discussions, quizzes, presentations, etc.) = 20%
- In-class writing assignments = 30%
- Mid-term essay exam = 10%
- Final essay exam = 20%

*English majors should save graded copies of their essays in all English classes, insofar as a subset of these essays will be required for the Senior Seminar portfolio in English 499.

Attendance

Absences may be excused only if you provide a note from either your doctor or your Chaminade coach/professor. All other absences will be unexcused.

Late arrivals, early departures, or unauthorized breaks will be counted as unexcused tardies. Three unexcused tardies will count as one unexcused absence. Late students are responsible for seeing me after class in order to confirm that their initial absence has been changed to a tardy.

Your attendance grade (20% of your final grade) will be determined as follows:

- 0-3 unexcused absences = 100 points
- 4 unexcused absences = 90 points
- 5 unexcused absences = 80 points
- 6 unexcused absences = 70 points
- 7 unexcused absences = 60 points
- 8 unexcused absences = 50 points
- 9 or more unexcused absences = 0 points

Your attendance record may also impact other components of your overall grade. For example, in-class assignments (including discussions, quizzes, presentations, in-class writing assignments, mid-term exam, etc.) cannot be made up unless your absence is excused.

Remember, if you are absent for two consecutive weeks or more (i.e. six classes in a row), the professor may either administratively withdraw you from the class or record an “F” for your final grade if the deadline to withdraw has passed.

Policies

No electronic devices (including laptops, tablets, cell phones, ear buds/headphones, smart glasses, etc.) are allowed in class, unless approved in advance by the professor. Please keep your devices silenced and in your bag. If I see you using an unapproved electronic device during class, I will mark you absent for the day.

In-class assignments (including discussions, quizzes, presentations, in-class writing assignments, mid-term exam, etc.) cannot be made up unless your absence is excused. Work missed due to an excused absence may be completed during my office hours. The final exam cannot be made up and must be taken during the scheduled final exam period.

No late assignments will be accepted (except for work missed due to an excused absence).

Plagiarized assignments and AI-generated or AI-assisted assignments will earn zero points.

We will not be using Canvas for this in-person class. If you would like to review your grades, please see me during office hours.

I respond to emails on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays (except for university holidays).

I expect all students to treat each other and the professor with respect at all times. This includes listening carefully and speaking thoughtfully to others during our class discussions.

Credit Hour Policy

The unit of semester credit is defined as university-level credit that is awarded for the completion of coursework. One credit hour reflects the amount of work represented in the intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement for those learning outcomes. Each credit hour earned at Chaminade University should result in 45 hours of engagement. This equates to one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester, 10 week term, or equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time. Direct instructor engagement and out-of-class work result in total student engagement time of 45 hours for one credit.

The minimum 45 hours of engagement per credit hour can be satisfied in fully online, internship, or other specialized courses through several means, including (a) regular online instruction or interaction with the faculty member and fellow students and (b) academic engagement through extensive reading, research, online discussion, online quizzes or exams; instruction, collaborative group work, internships, laboratory work, practica, studio work, and preparation of papers, presentations, or other forms of assessment. This policy is in accordance with federal regulations and regional accrediting agencies.

This is a three-credit hour course requiring a minimum of 135 clock hours of student engagement, per the official CUH Credit Hour Policy. Students enrolled in this course are anticipated to spend approximately 36 hours in class. The remaining time (approximately 99 hours) will be devoted to the assigned readings, averaging approximately 6.6 hours each week.
