University Course Description

PSY 603 is the first benchmark class in which the MSCP faculty observes the actual interpersonal skills and competencies of the students. This course is designed to introduce students to the study of the profession of counseling and to provide systematic training in basic counseling skills. It provides an overview of the core MPCAC (Masters in Psychology and Counseling Accreditation Council) curriculum areas, with extensive emphasis on basic counseling skills development.

First Benchmark Course

PSY 603 is the first benchmark class in which the MSCP faculty observes the actual interpersonal skills and competencies of the students. The Counseling Skills Proficiency Record is used. The minimum score on the Counseling Skills Proficiency Record to pass the course is 20 points. Below 20, the student is assigned a “C” for the course and must retake the course.

Course Delivery and Technology

The course will be delivered on the Canvas Learning Management System. You will be able to use Canvas to access the syllabus, modules, announcements, assignments, check grades for assignments, and videos for discussions.

Attendance Policy

We recognize that professional obligations may require flexible schedules. However, achieving the objectives of the program requires consistent preparation and participation. Students are expected to attend all classes and be on time for courses in which they are registered. Since our courses are offered on accelerated semesters, a student who misses more than one class has missed a substantial portion of the material presented. Missing more than one class session in a term is a basis for failure of the course. In the case of an emergency, inform your instructor of your absence. Students must follow the attendance policy as stipulated in the syllabus of their Graduate Program Division courses. Penalties for not meeting the attendance requirements may result in the lowering of a final grade, withdrawal from the course, or failing the course. Students with disabilities who have obtained accommodations from the Chaminade University ADA Coordinator may be considered for an exception when the accommodation does not materially alter the attainment of the learning outcomes. The policy on tardiness is left to the discretion of the instructor but be advised that extreme tardiness may be viewed as an absence by many instructors.

Excused Absences

Since it is expected that students will participate in all class sessions, excused absences are only granted in exceptional situations where evidence is provided by the student to the instructor. Examples would include illness with verification by a doctor, or the death of a close family member (also requiring documented verification). Students should notify their instructors when a situation prevents them from attending class and make arrangements to complete missed assignments. While notification to the instructor by a student that he/she will be absent is courteous, it does not necessarily mean the absence will be excused. In cases where excused absences constitute a significant portion of a course's meetings (e.g. more than 10% of course meetings, or a significant portion of online or hybrid courses) the instructor should refer the case to the Dean with a recommendation on how the case should be handled, whether that be by withdrawal or incomplete.

Unexcused Absences

Chaminade University policy states that in cases where unexcused absences are equivalent to more than a week of classes, the instructor has the option of lowering the final grade. In the Education Division we have added detailed guidelines to cover different types of courses and class schedules as described below:

1. On-ground courses. Unexcused absences totaling more than 10% of the number of classes will result in lowering of the overall grade by one letter grade. A student who misses 20% or more should withdraw or be administratively withdrawn.
2. Accelerated Semester Classes (10 classes): More than one absence lowers the final grade by one letter. Missing more than two classes results in failure or withdrawal.
3. Hybrid courses (online combined with 2 or more on-ground meetings). One absence from on-ground classes lowers final grade by one letter. Two or more absences from on-ground meetings results in failure or withdrawal. For the online portion of the course, the instructor will specify and enforce expectations for online participation and receipt of assignments appropriate to the design of the course.

4. Online courses and online portion of hybrid courses. The instructor will specify and enforce expectations for online participation and receipt of assignments appropriate to the design of the course. Unless otherwise specified, missing one week will drop the student one letter grade.
5. If a student does not log on to an online or hybrid course for the first two weeks, the instructor should notify the Records Office via their Chaminade email account and the student will be withdrawn from the course.
6. Any student who stops attending an on-ground course or stops participating in an online course without officially withdrawing may receive a failing grade.

Time Allocation & Credit Hour Policy

The unit of semester credit is defined as university-level credit that is awarded for the completion of coursework. One credit hour reflects the amount of work represented in the intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement for those learning outcomes. Each credit hour earned at Chaminade University should result in 45 hours of engagement. This equates to one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester, 10 week term, or equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time. Direct instructor engagement and out-of-class work result in total student engagement time of 45 hours for one credit.

The minimum 45 hours of engagement per credit hour can be satisfied in fully online, internship, or other specialized courses through several means, including (a) regular online instruction or interaction with the faculty member and fellow students and (b) academic engagement through extensive reading, research, online discussion, online quizzes or exams; instruction, collaborative group work, internships, laboratory work, practica, studio work, and preparation of papers, presentations, or other forms of assessment. This policy is in accordance with federal regulations and regional accrediting agencies.

This is a (3) credit hour course requiring 135 clock hours of student engagement, per the official CUH Credit Hour Policy. Students enrolled in this course are expected to spend about 30 hours in a synchronous online class, 15 hours responding to chapter assignments, 20 hours completing dyad videos and reflections to (4) dyad videos, 15.5 hours completing written reflections to counseling themes, 1.5 hours completing midterm self-evaluations, 9 hours completing (6) Counselor Competencies Written Reflection Assignments, 4 hours completing a case summary. There will be an additional 40 hours of work required beyond what is listed here (viewing videos, course readings, homework assignments, etc.) This additional work will average about 4 hours per week.

Class structure

This course is intended to provide you with training in fundamental skills required for counseling, and counseling-related tasks, such as documentation, case conceptualization and case presentation. Emphasis will be placed on developing competencies in skills (sometimes referred to as micro skills) in attending, listening and reflection. Competency in other skills will also be promoted including observation skills, focusing, use of questions, confrontation, reflection of meaning, and interpretation. You will be encouraged to reflect on your own style of relating to clients, your characteristic strengths and limitations regarding counseling skills, and how theory and models of counseling matches your personality.

A fundamental challenge for all students is to increase their own self-awareness relative to the counseling process. While some students in this class may have considerable experience in counseling in various capacities prior to entering the MSCP program, this course does not presume that you have prior counseling experience.

This course will emphasize the practice and review of online counseling and assigned counseling exercises. Each student will use their student email, Canvas online and Zoom to submit weekly assignments and video dyads.

MSCP Core Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs)

Upon completion of the M.S. in Counseling Psychology, students will be able to:

1. Identify core counseling theories, principles, concepts, techniques and facts.
2. Identify counseling theories, principles, concepts, techniques and facts in (Mental Health, Marriage/Family or School) counseling. (the specific emphasis would be stated for each of the emphasis areas)

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty is an essential aspect of all learning, scholarship, and research. It is one of the values regarded most highly by academic communities throughout the world. Violations of the principle of academic honesty are extremely serious and will not be tolerated.

Students are responsible for promoting academic honesty at Chaminade by not participating in any act of dishonesty and by reporting any incidence of academic dishonesty to an instructor or to a University official. Academic dishonesty may include theft of records or examinations, alteration of grades, and plagiarism, in addition to more obvious dishonesty.

Questions of academic dishonesty in a particular class are first reviewed by the instructor, who must make a report with recommendations to the Dean of the Academic Division. Punishment for academic dishonesty will be determined by the instructor and the Dean of Academic Division and may include an “F” grade for the work in question, an “F” grade for the course, suspension, or dismissal from the University.

For the most up to date information, please refer to the Academic Honesty Policy on the Chaminade University Catalog website.

ACA 2014 Code of Ethics

Section C: Professional Responsibility Introduction

... counselors engage in self-care activities to maintain and promote their own emotional, physical, mental, and spiritual well-being to best meet their professional responsibilities.

C.2.g: Impairment

Counselors monitor themselves for signs of impairment from their own physical, mental, or emotional problems and refrain from offering or providing professional services when impaired. They seek assistance for problems that reach the level of professional impairment, and, if necessary, they limit, suspend, or terminate their professional responsibilities until it is determined that they may safely resume their work. Counselors assist colleagues or supervisors in recognizing their own professional impairment and provide consultation and assistance when warranted with colleagues or supervisors showing signs of impairment and intervene as appropriate to prevent imminent harm to clients.

In part, engaging in the process of counseling is dependent upon understanding and applying the scientific method and evidence based research

The METHODS OF SCIENCE are only tools, tools that we use to obtain knowledge about phenomena.

The SCIENTIFIC METHOD is a set of assumptions and rules about collecting and evaluating data. The explicitly stated assumptions and rules enable a standard, systematic method of investigation that is designed to reduce bias as much as possible. Central to the scientific method is the collection of data, which allows investigators to put their ideas to an empirical test, outside of or apart from their personal biases. In essence, stripped of all its glamour, scientific inquiry is nothing more THAN A WAY OF LIMITING FALSE CONCLUSIONS ABOUT NATURAL EVENTS.

Knowledge of which the credibility of a profession is based must be objective and verifiable (testable) rather than subjective and untestable.

SCIENCE is a mode of controlled inquiry to develop an objective, effective, and credible way of knowing.

The assumptions one makes regarding the basic qualities of human nature (that is, cognitive, affective, behavioral, and physiological processes) affect how one conceptualizes human behavior.

The two basic functions of scientific approach are 1) advance knowledge, to make discoveries, and to learn facts in order to improve some aspect of the world, and 2) to establish relations among events, develop theories, and this helps professionals to make predictions of future events.

Research Design And Counseling
Heppner, Kivlighan, and Wampold

A THEORY is a large body of interconnected propositions about how some portion of the world operates; a HYPOTHESIS is a smaller body of propositions. HYPOTHESES are smaller versions of theories. Some are derived or born from theories. Others begin as researchers' hunches and develop into theories.

The PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE decrees we can only falsify, not verify (prove), theories because we can never be sure that any given theory provides the best explanation for a set of observations.

The above quotes were taken directly from:

Research Method In Social Relations
Kidder

THEORIES are not themselves directly proved or disproved by research. Even HYPOTHESES cannot be proved or disproved directly. Rather, research may either support or fail to support a particular hypothesis derived from a theory.

Scientific research has four general goals: (1) to describe behavior, (2) to predict behavior, (3) to determine the causes of behavior, and (4) to understand or explain behavior.

The above quotes were taken directly from:

Methods In Behavioral Research
Cozby

In order to verify the reliability and validity of scientific research it is important to replicate the results. It is the preponderance of evidence that establishes/supports the theory.

Marianist Values

This class represents one component of your education at Chaminade University of Honolulu. An education in the Marianist Tradition is marked by five principles and you should take every opportunity possible to reflect upon the role of these characteristics in your education and development:

1. Educate for Formation in Faith

Catholic Universities affirm an intricate relationship between reason and faith. As important as discursive and logical formulations and critical thinking are, they are not able to capture all that can be and ought to be learned. Intellectual rigor coupled with respectful humility provide a more profound preparation for both career and life. Intellectual rigor characterizes the pursuit of all that can be learned. Respectful humility reminds people of faith that they need to learn from those who are of other faiths and cultures, as well as from those who may have no religious faith at all.

2. Provide an Excellent Education

In the Marianist approach to education, “excellence” includes the whole person, not just the technician or rhetorician. Marianist universities educate whole persons, developing their physical, psychological, intellectual, moral, spiritual and social qualities. Faculty and students attend to fundamental moral attitudes, develop their personal talents and acquire skills that will help them learn all their lives. The Marianist approach to education links theory and practice, liberal and professional education. Our age has been deeply shaped by science and technology. Most recently, information and educational technologies have changed the way faculty and students research and teach. At Marianist Universities, two goals are pursued simultaneously: an appropriate use of information technology for learning, and the enhancement of interaction between students and teachers. As Catholic, Marianist Universities seek to embrace diverse peoples and understand diverse cultures, convinced that ultimately, when such people come together, one of the highest purposes of education is realized: a human community that respects every individual within it.

3. Educate in Family Spirit

Known for their strong sense of community, Marianists have traditionally spoken of this sense as “family spirit.” Marianist educational experience fosters the development of a community characterized by a sense of family spirit that accepts each person with loving respect, and draws everyone in the university into the challenge of community building. Family spirit also enables Marianist universities to challenge their students, faculty and staff to excellence and maturity, because the acceptance and love of a community gives its members the courage to risk failure and the joy of sharing success.

4. Educate for Service, Justice, and Peace

The Marianist approach to higher education is deeply committed to the common good. The intellectual life itself is undertaken as a form of service in the interest of justice and peace, and the university curriculum is designed to connect the classroom with the wider world. In addition, Marianist universities extend a special concern for the poor and marginalized and promote the dignity, rights and responsibilities of all people.

5. Educate for Adaptation to Change

In the midst of rapid social and technological change, Marianist universities readily adapt and change their methods and structures so that the wisdom of their educational philosophy and spirituality may be transmitted even more fully. “New times call for new methods,” Father Chaminade often repeated. The Marianist university faces the future confidently, on the one hand knowing that it draws on a rich educational philosophy, and on the other fully aware for that philosophy to remain vibrant in changing times, adaptations need to be made. Selected from Characteristics of Marianist Universities: A Resource Paper, Published in 1999 by Chaminade University of Honolulu, St. Mary’s University and University of Dayton.

Each of these characteristics are integrated, to varying degrees, in this course.

Native Hawaiian Values

Education is an integral value in both Marianist and Native Hawaiian culture. Both recognize the transformative effect of a well-rounded, value-centered education on society, particularly in seeking justice for the marginalized, the forgotten, and the oppressed, always with an eye toward God (Ke Akua). This is reflected in the ‘Olelo No’eau (Hawaiian proverbs) and Marianist core beliefs:

1. Educate for Formation in Faith (Mana) E ola au i ke akua (‘Ōlelo No‘eau 364) May I live by God
2. Provide an Integral, Quality Education (Na’auao) Lawe i ka ma‘alea a kū‘ono‘ono (‘Ōlelo No‘eau 1957) Acquire skill and make it deep
3. Educate in Family Spirit (‘Ohana) ‘Ike aku, ‘ike mai, kōkua aku kōkua mai; pela iho la ka nohana ‘ohana (‘Ōlelo No‘eau 1200) Recognize others, be recognized, help others, be helped; such is a family relationship
4. Educate for Service, Justice and Peace (Aloha) Ka lama kū o ka no‘eau (‘Ōlelo No‘eau 1430) Education is the standing torch of wisdom
5. Educate for Adaptation and Change (Aina) ‘A‘ohe pau ka ‘ike i ka hālau ho‘okahi (‘Ōlelo No‘eau 203) All knowledge is not taught in the same school
