Course Description & Materials

Catalog Course Description

This course examines ethical, legal, and professional issues central to the practice of mental health counseling, school counseling, and marriage and family therapy. Development of professional identity, ethical responsibilities and legal responsibilities, and liabilities are discussed within the context of professional ethical codes and relevant state regulations. Note:

Note: It is a program requirement that all students in PSY601 obtain membership in a professional organization to be maintained throughout their time in the program.

It is imperative that students keep all syllabi from all courses taken while in the MSCP program to facilitate the application process for licensing, and certification.

Time Allocation

The unit of semester credit is defined as university-level credit that is awarded for the completion of coursework. One credit hour reflects the amount of work represented in the intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement for those learning outcomes. Each credit hour earned at Chaminade University should result in 45 hours of engagement. This equates to one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester, 10 week term, or equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time. Direct instructor engagement and out-of-class work result in total student engagement time of 45 hours for one credit.

The minimum 45 hours of engagement per credit hour can be satisfied in fully online, internship, or other specialized courses through several means, including (a) regular online instruction or interaction with the faculty member and fellow students and (b) academic engagement through extensive reading, research, online discussion, online quizzes or exams; instruction, collaborative group work, internships, laboratory work, practica, studio work, and preparation of papers, presentations, or other forms of assessment. This policy is in accordance with federal regulations and regional accrediting agencies.

This is a three credit hour course requiring 135 clock hours of student engagement, per the official CUH Credit Hour Policy. Students enrolled in this course are expected to spend 30 hours online/in-person on the learning management system, 10.5 hours in writing response papers and discussion response posts, 8 hours studying for the midterm exam, 20 hours writing and revising the research paper, and 8 hours studying for the final exam. There will be an additional 58.5 hours of work required of work beyond what is listed here (course readings, homework assignments, etc.) This additional work will average about 6 hours per week.

Note: There is no way to determine how long course activities will take with 100% accuracy. Some students will work faster, others will work slower. Faculty may estimate the difficulty of tasks differently than their peers. We are simply seeking a reasonable estimation that is informed by Data provided by the Rice University Center for Teaching Excellence.

ACA Ethical guidelines for Self-Care and Self-Monitoring

Given the 1) long-standing issue of problematic self-care and self-monitoring in the field of counseling, clinical psychology, and psychotherapy, 2) chronic stress demonstrated by many students in the current Covid-19 ever-changing, and uncertain environment, 3) fact that there appears there will be numerous stressed out clients as a result of the Covid 19 ever-changing, and uncertain environment, and 4) fact that the ACA requires self-care and self-monitoring as part of their ethical guidelines, all courses will include and address the following ACA guidelines in all of their syllabi. These guidelines also apply to all faculty and staff teaching in the MSCP program.

ACA 2014 Code of Ethics

Section C: Professional Responsibility Introduction

... counselors engage in self-care activities to maintain and promote their own emotional, physical, mental, and spiritual well-being to best meet their professional responsibilities.

C.2.g: Impairment

Counselors monitor themselves for signs of impairment from their own physical, mental, or emotional problems and refrain from offering or providing professional services when impaired. They seek assistance for problems that reach the level of professional impairment, and, if necessary, they limit, suspend, or terminate their professional responsibilities until it is determined that they may safely resume their work.

Counselors assist colleagues or supervisors in recognizing their own professional impairment and provide consultation and assistance when warranted with colleagues or supervisors showing signs of impairment and intervene as appropriate to prevent imminent harm to clients.

Marianist Values

This class represents one component of your education at Chaminade University of Honolulu. An education in the Marianist Tradition is marked by five principles and you should take every opportunity possible to reflect upon the role of these characteristics in your education and development:

1. Education for formation in faith.
2. Provide an integral, quality education.
3. Educate in family spirit.
4. Educate for service, justice and peace, and integrity of creation.
5. Educate for adaptation and change.

PSY 601 Ethical and Professional Issues in Counseling is guided by the Marianist educational value of Educate for Adaptation to Change. Through this course students gain knowledge in ethical and legal issues and apply them to counseling. Ethical dilemmas cover “gray areas” where decision making isn’t polarized. Marianist universities readily adapt and change their methods. The following characteristics are demonstrated in the course:

- Flexible thinking
- Being respectful of differences
- Critical thinking
- Open-mindedness

Through weekly dyads, discussions, and assignments, the attributes above will be demonstrated.

Native Hawaiian Values

Education is an integral value in both Marianist and Native Hawaiian culture. Both recognize the transformative effect of a well-rounded, value-centered education on society, particularly in seeking justice for the marginalized, the forgotten, and the oppressed, always with an eye toward God (Ke Akua). This is reflected in the ‘Ōlelo No‘eau (Hawaiian proverbs) and Marianist core beliefs:

1. Educate for Formation in Faith (Mana) E ola au i ke akua (‘Ōlelo No‘eau 364) May I live by God.

2. Provide an Integral, Quality Education (Na'auao) Lawe i ka ma'alea a kū'ono'ono ('Ōlelo No'eau 1957) Acquire skill and make it deep.
3. Educate in Family Spirit ('Ohana) 'Ike aku, 'ike mai, kōkua aku kōkua mai; pela iho la ka nohana 'ohana ('Ōlelo No'eau 1200) Recognize others, be recognized, help others, be helped; such is a family relationship.
4. Educate for Service, Justice and Peace (Aloha) Ka luma kū o ka no'eau ('Ōlelo No'eau 1430) Education is the standing torch of wisdom.
5. Educate for Adaptation and Change (Aina) 'A'ohe pau ka 'ike i ka hālau ho'okahi ('Ōlelo No'eau 203) All knowledge is not taught in the same school

Scientific Method Definitions

The METHODS OF SCIENCE are only tools - tools that we use to obtain knowledge about phenomena.

The SCIENTIFIC METHOD is a set of assumptions and rules about collecting and evaluating data. The explicitly stated assumptions and rules enable a standard, systematic method of investigation that is designed to reduce bias as much as possible. Central to the scientific method is the collection of data, which allows investigators to put their ideas to an empirical test, outside of or apart from their personal biases. In essence, stripped of all its glamour, scientific inquiry is nothing more THAN A WAY OF LIMITING FALSE CONCLUSIONS ABOUT NATURAL EVENTS.

Knowledge of which the credibility of a profession is based must be objective and verifiable (testable) rather than subjective and untestable.

SCIENCE is a mode of controlled inquiry to develop an objective, effective, and credible way of knowing.

The assumptions one makes regarding the basic qualities of human nature (that is, cognitive, affective, behavioral, and physiological processes) affect how one conceptualizes human behavior.

The two basic functions of scientific approach are 1) advance knowledge, to make discoveries, and to learn facts in order to improve some aspect of the world, and 2) to establish relations among events, develop theories, and this helps professionals to make predictions of future events.

The above quotes were taken directly from: Research Design And Counseling Heppner,

Kivlighan, and Wampold

A THEORY is a large body of interconnected propositions about how some portion of the world operates; a HYPOTHESIS is a smaller body of propositions. HYPOTHESES are smaller versions of theories. Some are derived or born from theories. Others begin as researchers' hunches and develop into theories.

The PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE decrees we can only falsify, not verify (prove), theories because we can never be sure that any given theory provides the best explanation for a set of observations.

The above quotes were taken directly from: Research Method In Social Relations
Kidder

THEORIES are not themselves directly proved or disproved by research. Even HYPOTHESES cannot be proved or disproved directly. Rather, research may either support or fail to support a particular hypothesis derived from a theory.

Scientific research has four general goals: (1) to describe behavior, (2) to predict behavior, (3) to determine the causes of behavior, and (4) to understand or explain behavior.

The above quotes were taken directly from: Methods In Behavioral Research Cozby

In order to verify the reliability and validity of scientific research it is important to replicate the results. It is the preponderance of evidence that establishes/supports the theory.

The above quotes were taken directly from:

Weekly Prompts	Each week each student will prepare 1-2 prompts to facilitate discussion based on the chapter(s) and/or video(s) assigned for the week. The prompts will be used to stimulate discussions on topics such as ethical decision making, cultural humility, counselor development, social issues, issues in the helping professions, etc. as it pertains to the week's chapter. Please bring your prompts to class and be prepared to engage in discussion with the class. The discussions will provide students the opportunity to reflect and analyze alternatives, consequences, and ethical decision making as it might apply to clients and their situations. This exercise helps students develop empathy and humility. In order to receive full credit for Weekly Prompts, students will also engage in the chapter discussion for the week. Participation (responses to your peers) is very important as it contributes positively to the overall learning of the class. Participation is reviewed for both quantity and quality. For example, "I agree" or "I don't agree" without elaboration or explanation does not constitute participation because it does not add new information to the discussion. In order to earn full participation points, your responses must be related to the discussion question and include new ideas or personal perspectives. *The prompts must be submitted to Canvas prior to the start of class.	60 pts (6 @ 5 pts prompt submit tal & 5 pts partici pation in class discuss ion)	1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6

Video Reflections	Each student will watch a video(s) based on an ethical dilemma and answer the questions related to the video(s). Students will answer the questions using complete sentences and paragraphs. Students need to be prepared to discuss their responses to the video reflections in class.	30 (6 @ 5 pts each)	2, 3, 5, and 6
Chapter Discussion and Facilitation	Chapter discussion and facilitation will be due on the week reflected in the syllabus. Students will be responsible for facilitating and engaging class discussion(s) on the chapter(s) in the Issues and Ethics in the Helping Professions (10th. ed.) textbook. Prior to the beginning of the chapter discussion(s), the student will choose one of the week's chapters to set up and initiate a role-play scenario for the class to experience. These role-plays can be pre- recorded. The role-play should provide a close- to- real experience for the students role-playing as the counselor. This role-play should provoke an ethical dilemma that is relevant to the chapter discussion. Each role-play should be approximately 3-5 minutes and should be done in such a way that each participant's part is well defined; the situation is well defined; the ethical dilemma is well defined; and the role-play should conclude with the counselor having to make an ethical decision. Students will also debrief on the role-play and ethical dilemma. The chapter discussion(s) can include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What issues were brought up in this chapter? • What questions or wonderings about the chapter content do you have? • Can the concepts in the chapter be applied to all cultures? • What are some "gray" areas of the chapter and what do those "gray" areas mean as a professional counselor? 	50 pts (25 pts facilitation, 25 pts discussion)	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What are your personal thoughts/reflection on the chapter? • Were any key theories introduced in this chapter and what makes them key for the helping professions? • What laws would be applicable to your chapter's topic(s) and how would ethical dilemmas make ethics and law complicated? • Optional: create and implement an exercise that will involve the class to ensure knowledge retention from your chapter discussion. Some examples would be a quiz, a game, a debate, etc.... Your chapter discussion and facilitation should be approximately 45 minutes in length per chapter for the week. In addition, you will provide your peers with a one-page "study guide" on your chapter(s).

Students will look into various perspectives such as, but not limited to, evolution, adaptation, epigenetics, systems thinking, intersectionality, etc. Based on the students' findings, students will develop and write an ethical dilemma case study, preferably in their discipline path, write a report, and present their findings. Presentations should include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Case study <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Preferably in the student's discipline path (school, mental health, marriage & family). Attendance

If you miss more than one class, regardless of reason, you will be given a “C” and you must retake the class. (This is graduate programs policy.)

Class Structure

The format of this course is similar to a seminar that uses the Socratic method of teaching to practice critical thinking and critical analysis on ethics. This course will be comprised of chapter facilitation, chapter discussions, and role-plays to demonstrate knowledge expertise in the subject and concept of professionalism and ethics. Throughout the course, students will complete chapter reflections, dyads, and case studies to stimulate discussion and critical thinking, and engage in self-reflection and self-awareness practices to encourage mindfulness to identify any existing bias. The course will end with a cumulative final exam, covering all chapters of material covered in this class to assess retention of information, and a Biopsychosocial-Spiritual Model project to synthesize the course concepts.

In order to have informed weekly discussions, students must complete the readings prior to any discussions. There is likely to be lively discussions which may include disagreement on issues due to the nature of the class material. Some people may feel uncomfortable or upset by some of the material so we want to make sure to follow these ground rules:

- Acknowledge that people in our culture have different experiences based on race, class, sex, age, sexuality, etc.
- Think sociologically about the issues we tackle and be prepared to critically analyze your own opinions and beliefs.
- Agree that this course should be a place where no one is made to feel embarrassed or ashamed. Healthy discussion and debate is welcome and encouraged. We do not have to agree with one another, but we must be able to discuss our differences in a respectful manner.

In terms of general participation, students are responsible for all material posted each week. This course will require a fair amount of reading, ethical decision making, video material, dyads, and reflection so plan your study time wisely. Prior to any class discussions, students are expected to have engaged the material in a manner where they are prepared to talk in class with questions and reflections
