Methods of delivery include (but are not limited to) lectures, case studies, class exercises and/or activities, discussions, and guest speakers to name a few.

Course Expectations

Your final grade will be based on your performance on exams, quizzes, assignments, class participation, professionalism, and attendance. In case of class cancelation, you will be notified via Canvas and your Chaminade email.

Special note: Because this class is intended for professional preparation, as a matter of professionalism, I do not accept late work.

- Chaminade email
- Microsoft Word (or other word processing software)

Arriving to class late will be counted as ½ an absence from class. Unexcused absences equivalent to more than a week of class will result in a final grade reduction for the course. More than three weeks of unexcused absences from class will result in failure of the course by the instructor. Excused absences include documented events such as: medically related conflicts, accidents, injuries, deaths, or sports.

Policies on Email Communication

Email Etiquette

- I strive to know all of my students by name as it makes our classroom environment much warmer and more welcoming. To help me get to know you better, please ensure that you include your 1) full name, 2) your class title, and 3) your section number (if applicable) when you send me an email. This helps me expedite my response and cut down on unnecessary email exchanges.
- Please be as specific as possible in your emails. I can't stress this enough. If you are asking a question about an assignment, please state the name of the assignment you have a question about, and be as detailed as possible in the way you phrase your question(s). For example, something like, "I'm working on the research paper assignment in BUS 123. The instructions state that I need to include 3 credible resources. I'm vetting a source from Vox.com (attached below) and wanted to find out if it is appropriate for this assignment. Would you please review it and verify that it is acceptable?" is far more detailed than, "I'm working on the research paper but I don't know what a credible source is."
 - If you are asking multiple questions in one email, please use a numbered or bulleted list so I can respond to each question directly without missing anything.
- Please be sure to read the entire syllabus, relevant supporting documentation in Canvas, and the entire assignment instructions (including supporting materials that have been provided with the assignment) BEFORE sending an email. Often the answers to your questions have already been addressed, you just didn't realize it. If you read through everything and still have questions, I'm happy to help ☺
- Sending appropriate emails are critical to your professional preparation. Email is a primary method of communication in the workplace, so it is important to practice good etiquette now. All emails should exercise professional language, use correct spelling and grammar, and include a salutation and valediction.

Response Times to Email

As many of you are aware, the nature of the Internet and email, specifically, creates an "always on" culture that blurs the boundaries of work life and home life. In an effort to protect this sensitive balance, I check my emails once daily (usually in the mid-morning). If you send me an email message, you can expect a response by the next school day. Students should take care to plan ahead when sending emails. If an email is received on a Friday, the next school day is Monday. If a holiday interrupts our regular school schedule, emails will be returned the next day classes resume. Since all of our assignments are due on Sunday nights, it's imperative that students plan ahead. When you don't begin an assignment until Friday, Saturday, or Sunday, I will not be available to respond to your email concerns until the following school day (which will be after the assignment deadline). This is typically how responses work in business settings as well, so these practices also help you develop good professional habits.

Policy on the use of Generative AI (ChatGPT, Bing! Autopilot, and others)

The use of generative AI tools is permitted in this course for the following activities:

- Brainstorming and refining your ideas;
- Fine tuning your research questions;
- Finding information on your topic;
- Drafting a bullet-pointed outline to organize your thoughts; and
- Checking grammar and style

While use of generative AI is permitted for the above activities, you should note that the material generated by these programs may be inaccurate, incomplete, or otherwise problematic (producing hallucinations). Beware that use of such programs may also stifle your own independent thinking and creativity.

The use of generative AI is NOT permitted in this course for the following activities:

- Impersonating you in classroom contexts, such as by using the tool to compose discussion board prompts assigned to you or content that you put into a Zoom chat
- Completing any type of group work that your group has assigned to you
- Writing a draft of a writing assignment
- Writing entire sentences, paragraphs, or papers to complete class assignments

You are responsible for the information you submit. If you include material generated by an AI program, it should be cited like any other reference material (with due consideration for the quality of the reference, which may be poor). Citations of all AI generated content should be in APA 7th edition format.

Behavioral Expectations

You are expected to conduct yourself in a manner compatible with the college's function as an institute of higher learning. To uphold this principle in the face-to-face classroom, no cell phones, or "side conversations" that disrupt the learning process or interfere with the primary activity are allowed. Laptop computers may be used for taking notes or engaging in class activities. Please refrain from using your computer for anything other than classwork. Text or any other type of messaging (on phones or computers) during class is not allowed. Not only is it disruptive to those around you, it is distracting to the instructor and interrupts the learning environment. Students should silence their cell phones before entering class. I find this to be a very serious matter. Each student in this course has paid to receive an education, and inhibiting the learning of those around you via use of cell phone, personal computer, and/or visitation unrelated to coursework disrespects the learning environment and the personal sacrifices your classmates are making to be in class. In the face-to-face and online course spaces, civil discourse must be adhered to at all times. When working online in any capacity, students should use proper netiquette at all times.

Every student has the right to a respectful learning environment. In order to provide this right, students must take individual responsibility to conduct themselves in a mature and appropriate manner and will be held accountable for their behavior. Any student who disrupts the class or communicates or behaves inappropriately or disrespectfully, as determined by the instructor and/or university, will be referred for disciplinary action.

Assessment Methods

Assessment methods include quizzes, exams, oral and written assignments, projects, class discussions, class activities, and group work. Every effort will be made to return all student work within two-weeks of the due date.

Late Work

All work in this course will be due at 11:59PM HST on the assigned due date, at which point online submission boxes will promptly close. This class is designed as professional preparation, therefore late work is not accepted. Assignments which are not submitted on or before their due date will receive a zero. If you find that you are having technical difficulties please contact the Chaminade IT Helpdesk for issues related to Chaminade technology. If you have documentation from the Helpdesk indicating that they have identified a problem with the technology, I will allow you to submit the assignment once a resolution has been reached at no penalty to you. If students are unsure of their home technology, they should plan ahead to use the computer lab on-campus in order to submit work in a timely manner. If you have life circumstances that you feel will prohibit you from submitting an assignment on time, please contact me BEFORE the assignment is due to find out possibilities of accommodation.

Grading Standards

"A" students do not miss classes during the semester. They read and critically engage all the assigned readings before class on their own, and with classmates and the instructor. All assignments are not only complete, but go beyond more than just the minimum requirements. Their assignments are turned in on time or early, exhibit proper style, grammar and format, are well-organized, integrate strategic planning and targeting, and are written precisely and concisely. They take advantage of all rewrite and extra credit opportunities. These students always keep up with current news events, both locally and globally.

"B" students miss a few classes during the semester. They usually read the assigned readings before class. Their assignments exhibit proper style, grammar and format, are well-organized, integrate strategic planning and targeting, and are written precisely and concisely. They take advantage of all rewrite and extra credit opportunities. These students usually keep up with current events.

"C" students miss several classes during the semester. They complete the assigned readings before exams. Written assignments and exams usually exhibit proper style and formatting, but do not always integrate strategic planning and targeting, and are not always well organized or written precisely and concisely. All assignments are turned in on time, and most rewrite opportunities are used. These students sometimes keep up with current events.

"D" students miss four or more classes during the semester and skim assigned readings. Assignments and exams usually exhibit proper style and formatting, but they often lack integrated strategic planning and targeting, and are often not well-organized, or written precisely and concisely. Assignments are not always turned in on time and only some rewrite opportunities are used. They don't keep up with current events.

"F" students fail to attend class consistently, miss exams, written assignments; don't use rewrite opportunities.

Suggestions for Success

Manage your time wisely and stay organized! Learn how to use the required technology. Come to class prepared. Engage in the learning, discussions, and activities that take place in the classroom. Don't be distracted or distract others. Always do your best! ☺

Challenging a Grade on an Individual Assignment

Should a student find at any point during the semester that they wish to challenge a grade they have received on an assignment, they are welcome to do so. Following are the grade challenging guidelines:

- Students must wait 48 hours after receipt of their assignment before challenging the grade
- Grade challenges must be submitted in writing via email, in respectful and professional prose
- Students must articulate, based on the merits of their work (not on circumstances) and the guidelines of the assignment/rubric, why they feel their grade should be amended
- Students have up to 2 weeks to challenge an assignment grade, attempts to challenge a grade after 2 weeks from receiving an assignment back will be automatically forfeited

Students also retain the right to academic grievance for final course grades through standard Chaminade processes should they feel this step is necessary.

Academic Conduct Policy

From the 2019-2020 Undergraduate Academic Catalog (p. 39):

Any community must have a set of rules and standards of conduct by which it operates. At Chaminade, these standards are outlined so as to reflect both the Catholic, Marianist values of the institution and to honor and respect students as responsible adults. All alleged violations of the community standards are handled through an established student conduct process, outlined in the Student Handbook, and operated within the guidelines set to honor both students' rights and campus values.

Students should conduct themselves in a manner that reflects the ideals of the University. This includes knowing and respecting the intent of rules, regulations, and/or policies presented in the Student Handbook, and realizing that students are subject to the University's jurisdiction from the time of their admission until their enrollment has been formally terminated. Please refer to the Student Handbook for more details. A copy of the Student Handbook is available on the Chaminade website. For further information, please refer to the Student Handbook.

Credit Hour Policy

The unit of semester credit is defined as university-level credit that is awarded for the completion of coursework. One credit hour reflects the amount of work represented in the intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement for those learning outcomes. Each credit hour earned at Chaminade University should result in a minimum of 45 hours of engagement, regardless of varying credits, duration, modality, or degree level. This equates to one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester. Terms that have alternative lengths, such as 10-week terms, should have an equivalent amount of faculty instruction and out-of-class student work to meet each credit hour. Direct instructor engagement and out-of-class work result in total student engagement time of 45 hours for one credit. The number of engagement hours may be higher, as needed to meet specific learning outcomes.
