Marianist Values

This class represents one component of your education at Chaminade University of Honolulu. An education in the Marianist Tradition is marked by five principles and you should take every opportunity possible to reflect upon the role of these characteristics in your education and development:

1. Education for formation in faith.
2. Provide an integral, quality education.
3. Educate in family spirit.
4. Educate for service, justice and peace, and integrity of creation.
5. Educate for adaptation and change.

PSY 463 Psychology of Death and Dying is guided by the Marianist Educational Value of Educate for Adaptation and Change. Father Chaminade said, “never has change been done and never will it be done without difficulty.” As Chaminade University prepares all students for life, service, and successful careers, change is inevitable and for many, the passing of our loved ones can be the most difficult change of them all. This class will help us get a deeper understanding of life’s unavoidable transition, death and dying, through the lens of a family member, friend, and service provider. In addition, this value guides this course through its focus on the development of:

1. Flexible thinking;
2. Being respectful of differences;
3. Critical thinking; and
4. Open-mindedness. This will be found in our weekly discussions

Native Hawaiian Values

Education is an integral value in both Marianist and Native Hawaiian culture. Both recognize the transformative effect of a well-rounded, value-centered education on society, particularly in seeking justice for the marginalized, the forgotten, and the oppressed, always with an eye toward God (Ke Akua). This is reflected in the ‘Olelo No’eau (Hawaiian proverbs) and Marianist core beliefs:

1. Educate for Formation in Faith (Mana) E ola au i ke akua (‘Olelo No’eau 364) May I live by God.
2. Provide an Integral, Quality Education (Na’auao) Lawe i ka ma‘alea a kū‘ono‘ono (‘Olelo No’eau 1957) Acquire skill and make it deep.
3. Educate in Family Spirit (‘Ohana) ‘Ike aku, ‘ike mai, kōkua aku kōkua mai; pela iho la ka nohana ‘ohana (‘Olelo No’eau 1200) Recognize others, be recognized, help others, be helped; such is a family relationship.

4. Educate for Service, Justice and Peace (Aloha) Ka lama kū o ka no‘eau (‘Ōlelo No‘eau 1430) Education is the standing torch of wisdom.
5. Educate for Adaptation and Change (Aina) ‘A‘ohe pau ka ‘ike i ka hālau ho‘okahi (‘Ōlelo No‘eau 203) All knowledge is not taught in the same school

Course Activities

Discussions

Discussion Question Response - Based on the video, your readings, and your thoughts on the subject, please respond to the discussion question in no less than 200 words in length. Post your discussion response directly to Canvas. Do not post as an attachment. This will make it easier for everyone to see your response. List your sources at the bottom of your post using APA formatting.

Participation Requirement - Participation (responses to your peers) is very important as it contributes positively to the overall learning of the class. Participation is reviewed for both quantity and quality. For example, "I agree" or "I don't agree" without elaboration or explanation does not constitute participation because it does not add new information to the discussion. In order to earn full participation points, your responses must be related to the discussion question and include new ideas or personal perspectives. For full participation credit you are required to contribute a total of two substantive responses each week.

Following are guidelines for weekly discussion grades:

- Excellent = The posting and comments are accurate, original, relevant, well supported, teaches us something new or offers a new perspective, and is well written. Grade of 10 indicate substantial learning presence to the course and the stimulation of additional thought about the issue under discussion. At least one (1) question was written for your peers to respond to.
- Above Average = The posting and comments lack at least one of the above qualities but is above average in quality. Grade of 8 here indicate that the comments make reasonable contributions to our understanding of the issue being discussed. At least one (1) question was written for your peers to respond to.
- Average = The posting and comments lack 2 or 3 of the required qualities. Comments which are based upon personal opinion or personal experience often fall within this category. These comments typically receive a grade of 5. (Note: some discussion postings will specifically ask for personal opinion or experience and, thus, do not fall into this category). These postings may not fully address the discussion question at hand. No question was submitted for your peers to respond to.

- Minimal = The posting and comments present little or no new information or does not contribute to the overall discussion board. Postings may not be complete and/or are poorly written. However, grade of 3 here indicate that the comments may provide some social presence to a collegial atmosphere. No question was submitted for your peers to respond to.
- Unacceptable = The posting or comments add no value or meaningless value to the discussion, are poorly written, or do not address the question at hand. Grade of 1 will be provided. No question was submitted for your peers to respond to.

Assignments

"If I had one more year..." -A Reflective Legacy Letter.

This assignment asks you to reflect on your own life, your values, relationships, and what you would prioritize if you knew you were going to die tomorrow.

This assignment is not a bucket list. It's a deeply personal reflection and articulation of meaning. Through this letter, you will explore what it means for you to live purposefully, and how your awareness of morality can shape the way that you love, dream, and act...

Assignment Instructions:

Write a letter titled:

"If I had One More Year..."

In this letter (4 pages double-spaced, 12 pt font with 1" margins,) write from the perspective of a person who has just learned they will die tomorrow. With the sentiment of "if I just had one more year" at the forefront of your heart and mind, address the following:

- Relationships & Repair
 - Who would you want to spend time with, make amends with, or express love to? Why? Are there people you'd like to thank, forgive, or find closure with? How would you do that if you "had one more year"?
- Dreams & Meaning
 - What unfinished dream or purpose would you have wanted to complete, or pursue, if you had "one more year"? What does this say about what gives your life meaning?
- Legacy & Impact
 - What messages, values, or contributions would you have wanted to leave behind? Who or what would you want to influence?
- Final Words/Funeral & Memorialization Preferences
 - What "last words" do you have as you close up this letter? Any final words of wisdom, advice, lessons, messages, etc. you may have for the people you will be leaving behind, or a message for the younger you? You can also include sharing your funeral/memorialization preferences. E.g. What kind of funeral or memorial would you want? Consider letting loved ones know elements like setting, the people involved, messages shared, music, pictures, rituals, etc. that are meaningful to you. (The way someone wants to be memorialized often reflects who they are as an individual).

Please include a title page (title of assignment, class, and your name) and a conclusion page (no page limit) that includes reflections/thoughts of how this assignment changed the way you see yourself, your life, death, and/or your relationships. How did contemplating death- and imagining what you would have done with one more year- reshape how you view your life now? What emotions or insight did this bring up for you?

Your assignment's format should look a little something like this:

- Page 1: Title Page
- Page 2-5: Contents of letter
- Page 6: Conclusion

Final Project

Conversations on Death – Interview, Reflection Paper, and Video Presentation

This final project centers on a real, thoughtful dialogue about death. You will interview someone at least 15–20 years older than yourself to explore their views, beliefs, and experiences related to death, dying, funerals, grief, and the afterlife.

Your final submission will include:

- A summary and analysis paper (4–6 pages)
- A short reflective video presentation (5 minutes)

This project allows you to:

- Apply course concepts to real-world beliefs and lived experiences
- Examine generational or cultural perspectives on death and grief
- Practice compassionate and ethical listening
- Reflect on your own evolving understanding of death and loss

The goal is not only to document their perspective but also reflect on how hearing their story informs your own understanding of life, loss, and legacy.

Conducting the Interview

Choose someone 15–20+ years older than you, such as a relative, mentor, friend, or community member. Ask for their voluntary consent and make it clear that their responses will remain anonymous unless they agree otherwise.

You may conduct the interview in person, via phone, or on video call. Approach the conversation with respect, curiosity, and empathy. Be sure to take detailed notes or record (with permission). Focus on listening and asking questions - allow the conversation to flow naturally!

Suggested Topics:

- What are your beliefs about death and what happens after we die?

- Have you ever had a meaningful experience with grief? How did it affect you?
- What was your first experience with death?
- What are your thoughts or plans for your own funeral or end-of-life care?
- How do you think views on death have changed over your lifetime?
- What do you wish younger people understood about grief?
- How have experiences with loss shaped your life?
- Are there cultural or spiritual traditions around death that are important to you?
- What would a “good death” look like to you?

Summary & Reflection Paper (4–6 pages)

Your paper should include:

- Interview Summary (approx. 2–3 pages):
 - Key points from the conversation
 - Direct quotes (anonymized if needed)
 - Themes that stood out
- Analysis & Connection to Course Content (approx. 1–2 pages):
 - Compare/contrast their views with your own or what you’ve learned in class
 - Connect interview to at least two concepts, theories, or readings from the course
 - Explore generational, cultural, or spiritual influences
- Personal Reflection (approx. 1 page):
 - What surprised or moved you?
 - Did anything challenge your own beliefs?
 - How did it change your understanding of death, grief, or memorialization?

Video Presentation (5 minutes)

Record a short video that summarizes your experience and reflections. This isn’t meant to be formal—think of it as a final presentation or video journal.

In your video, please:

- Briefly introduce your interviewee (anonymously if needed)
- Highlight meaningful moments from your interview
- Share how this experience shaped or deepened your understanding of death
- You may use visuals, voiceovers, snippets of your recording (with interviewee permission), music, or keep it simple!

Exams

You will be given a mid-term and a final exam. The final exam will be a comprehensive exam covering the entire text.

Please note that Canvas will shut down the Mid-Term and Final Exam at 11:59 pm on the due date as specified in Canvas, regardless of how far you are into the exam. Subsequently, please plan ahead and give yourself ample time so this does not become an issue for you.

Course Policies

Important Information

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty is an essential aspect of all learning, scholarship, and research. It is one of the values regarded most highly by academic communities throughout the world. Violations of the principle of academic honesty are extremely serious and will not be tolerated.

Students are responsible for promoting academic honesty at Chaminade by not participating in any act of dishonesty and by reporting any incidence of academic dishonesty to an instructor or to a University official. Academic dishonesty may include theft of records or examinations, alteration of grades, and plagiarism, in addition to more obvious dishonesty.

Questions of academic dishonesty in a particular class are first reviewed by the instructor, who must make a report with recommendations to the Dean of the Academic Division. Punishment for academic dishonesty will be determined by the instructor and the Dean of Academic Division and may include an “F” grade for the work in question, an “F” grade for the course, suspension, or dismissal from the University.

For the most up to date information, please refer to the Academic Honesty Policy on the Chaminade University Catalog website.
