

PM

ESL 105 - Reading and Vocabulary II

Fall 1999

Monday, Wednesday 11:00 - 11:50, Friday 10:00 - 11:50

Instructor: Mrs. Eileen Natori

Office: Eiben Hall, Room 124

Phone: 735-4745

Course Goal & Objectives

ESL 105 will provide instruction in reading comprehension skills, and opportunities to read different types of materials.

Students will gain speed and accuracy in reading by learning strategies to increase their reading rate, and through various timed tests.

Students will be provided many opportunities to expand their vocabulary.

Students will learn strategies for pronunciation and spelling using a phonetic base.

Required texts and workbooks

Reading Skills for College Students - Ophelia H. Hancock

McCall Crabbs Test Lessons in Reading Comprehension

Course Requirements

Students are expected to attend all class meetings, to participate in class activities, to complete all assignments, and to complete all tests/quizzes given. If a test/quiz is missed, student should make arrangements for a make-up test/quiz to be taken within two weeks of the missed test date. Final grade will be based on attendance, the scores earned on all the tests/quizzes, participation in classroom activities, and homework assignments.

Grading

Attendance	10%
0-2 absences	A
3-4 absences	B
5 absences	C
6 absences	D
7 or more abs.	F

Every 3 tardies will be counted as one absence.

Participation	20%
Homework	20%
Tests	30%
Quizzes	20%