School & Department Information

Catalog Course Description

An in-depth and comprehensive exploration of the theoretical background and practical application of selected best-practice contemporary approaches to counseling in community mental health settings. This is a required course for the Mental Health emphasis. Prerequisites: PSY 636

Time Allocation

The unit of semester credit is defined as university-level credit that is awarded for the completion of coursework. One credit hour reflects the amount of work represented in the intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement for those learning outcomes. Each credit hour earned at Chaminade University should result in 45 hours of engagement. This equates to one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work each week for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester, ten week term, or equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time. Direct instructor engagement and out-of-class work result in total student engagement time of 45 hours for one credit.

The minimum 45 hours of engagement per credit hour can be satisfied in fully online, internship, or other specialized courses through several means, including (a) regular online instruction or interaction with the faculty member and fellow students and (b) academic engagement through extensive reading, research, online discussion, online quizzes or exams; instruction, collaborative group work, internships, laboratory work, practica, studio work, and preparation of papers, presentations, or other forms of assessment. This policy is in accordance with federal regulations and regional accrediting agencies.

- Treatment Plans & DAP Notes = 10 hours
- DYADS = 12 hours
- Literature review = 2 hours
- Theory presentation = 12 hours
- (5) Case Analysis = 20 hours
- Assessments = 2 hours
- Discussion posts = 4 hours
- Theory Intervention = 3
- Exam (study time) = 8 hours

Canvas

Hardware Requirements: Canvas is accessible from both PC and Mac computers with a reliable internet connection. You will also need to be able to access audio and video files. Subsequently, you should have access to speakers or headphones that allow you to hear the audio.

ACA 2014 Code of Ethics Section C: Professional Responsibility Introduction ... counselors engage in self-care activities to maintain and promote their own emotional, physical, mental, and spiritual wellbeing to best meet their professional responsibilities.

C.2.g: Impairment Counselors monitor themselves for signs of impairment from their own physical, mental, or emotional problems and refrain from offering or providing professional services when impaired. They seek assistance for problems that reach the level of professional impairment, and, if necessary, they limit, suspend, or terminate their professional responsibilities until it is determined that they may safely resume their work. Counselors assist colleagues or supervisors in recognizing their own professional impairment and provide consultation and assistance when warranted with colleagues or supervisors showing signs of impairment and intervene as appropriate to prevent imminent harm to clients.

2. Evaluate and compare different counseling approaches, including their underlying assumptions and evidence-base, and assess their applicability to community mental health settings. Assessment Method: Conceptual Framework paper.
3. Implement advanced skills in implementing best-practice counseling approaches in community mental health settings. Assessment method: In-class observation and feedback.
4. Plan, develop, and facilitate individual and group counseling sessions, to include progress notetaking, treatment planning, and theoretical and applied perspectives in mental health counseling. Assessment method: Case Conceptualization presentation.
5. Engage in self-reflection and reflexivity, considering the impact of personal values, biases, and assumptions on the counseling process and the therapeutic relationship Assessment method: Reflective journaling.

Marianist Values

This class represents one component of your education at Chaminade University of Honolulu. An education in the Marianist Tradition is marked by five principles and you should take every opportunity possible to reflect up the role of these characteristics in your education and development:

1. Education for formation in faith.

Catholic Universities affirm an intricate relationship between reason and faith. As important as discursive and logical formulations and critical thinking are, they are not able to capture all that can be and ought to be learned. Intellectual rigor coupled with respectful humility provide a more profound preparation for both career and life. Intellectual rigor characterizes the pursuit of all that can be learned. Respectful humility reminds people of faith that they need to learn from those who are of other faiths and cultures, as well as from those who may have no religious faith at all.

2. Provide an integral, quality education.

In the Marianist approach to education, “excellence” includes the whole person, not just the technician or rhetorician. Marianist universities educate whole persons, developing their physical, psychological, intellectual, moral, spiritual and social qualities. Faculty and students attend to fundamental moral attitudes, develop their personal talents and acquire skills that will help them learn all their lives. The Marianist approach to education links theory and practice, liberal and professional education. Our age has been deeply shaped by science and technology. Most recently, information and educational technologies have changed the way faculty and students research and teach. At Marianist Universities, two goals are pursued simultaneously: an appropriate use of information technology for learning, and the enhancement of interaction between students and teachers. As Catholic, Marianist Universities seek to embrace diverse peoples and understand diverse cultures, convinced that ultimately, when such people come together, one of the highest purposes of education is realized: a human community that respects every individual within it.

3. Educate in family spirit.

Known for their strong sense of community, Marianists have traditionally spoken of this sense as “family spirit.” Marianist educational experience fosters the development of a community characterized by a sense of family spirit that accepts each person with loving respect, and draws everyone in the university into the challenge of community building. Family spirit also enables Marianist universities to challenge their students, faculty and staff to excellence

4. Educate for service, justice and peace, and integrity of creation.

The Marianist approach to higher education is deeply committed to the common good. The intellectual life itself is undertaken as a form of service in the interest of justice and peace, and the university curriculum is designed to connect the classroom with the wider world. In addition, Marianist universities extend a special concern for the poor and marginalized and promote the dignity, rights and responsibilities of all people.

5. Educate for adaptation and change.

In the midst of rapid social and technological change, Marianist universities readily adapt and change their methods and structures so that the wisdom of their educational philosophy and spirituality may be transmitted even more fully. "New times call for new methods," Father Chaminade often repeated.

The Marianist University faces the future confidently, on the one hand knowing that it draws on a rich educational philosophy, and on the other fully aware for that philosophy to remain vibrant in changing times, adaptations need to be made. Selected from Characteristics of Marianist Universities: A Resource Paper, Published in 1999 by. Chaminade University of Honolulu, St. Mary's University and University of Dayton

Native Hawaiian Values

Education is an integral value in both Marianist and Native Hawaiian culture. Both recognize the transformative effect of a well-rounded, value-centered education on society, particularly in seeking justice for the marginalized, the forgotten, and the oppressed, always with an eye toward God (Ke Akua). This is reflected in the 'Ōlelo No'eau (Hawaiian proverbs) and Marianist core beliefs:

1. Educate for Formation in Faith (Mana) E ola au i ke akua ('Ōlelo No'eau 364) May I live by God.
2. Provide an Integral, Quality Education (Na'auao) Lawe i ka ma'alea a kū'ono'ono ('Ōlelo No'eau 1957) Acquire skill and make it deep.
3. Educate in Family Spirit ('Ohana) 'Ike aku, 'ike mai, kōkua aku kōkua mai; pela iho la ka nohana 'ohana ('Ōlelo No'eau 1200) Recognize others, be recognized, help others, be helped; such is a family relationship.
4. Educate for Service, Justice and Peace (Aloha) Ka lama kū o ka no'eau ('Ōlelo No'eau 1430) Education is the standing torch of wisdom.
5. Educate for Adaptation and Change (Aina) 'A'ohe pau ka 'ike i ka hālau ho'okahi ('Ōlelo No'eau 203) All knowledge is not taught in the same school

Homework

In terms of general participation, students are responsible for all material posted each week. This course will require a fair amount of reading and video viewing, so do make sure to plan your study time wisely. students are expected to have engaged the material such that they are prepared with questions and reflections. This allows for more coherent participation in the course material. Although specific readings and videos will be assigned for each week, students are encouraged to consider and discuss comparisons and disparities among the readings and videos

#1 Literature Review

The purpose of this assignment is to conduct a comprehensive literature review on counseling theories. The review should examine various theoretical frameworks used in the counseling process, their foundational concepts, the context in which they were developed, and the evidence supporting their efficacy. This assignment will help you develop a deeper understanding of the different approaches to counseling and their practical applications.

#2 Pre – Tests:

Pre tests are listed in CANVAS Modules.

#3 Theory-Based Intervention Design Assignment

Select a specific population or issue (e.g., adolescents with anxiety, aging and addiction) and design a detailed counseling intervention based on a theory studied in the course. This assignment should pair with your literature review supporting the choice of theory, a session-by-session breakdown of activities, and anticipated outcomes.

#4 Counseling Modalities Presentation Group or Individual project – (Sign up Theory Project)

Prepare a PowerPoint presentation with 8-10 slides not including reference slide. Be as creative as you like. Choose a counseling theory in which will be applied in group therapy. Start by defining what you want the audience is to learn or achieve by the end of your presentation. For example, to understand specific group counseling techniques and how to apply them effectively.

Gather Content using the following prompts:

- Introduction to the theory used in the group counseling exercise:
- Briefly explain the theory and how it applies to group counseling and its benefits.
- Core Techniques: Discuss key techniques as it applies to the theory technique such as active listening, empathy, group dynamics, conflict resolution, and others. Provide definitions and examples for each.
- Application: Show how these techniques are used in context of the theory you chose.

- Challenges and Solutions: Talk about common challenges in group counseling and offer solutions or strategies to overcome them with the emphasis of the theory you are demonstrating.
- No duplicated presentations. Access shared google drive to declare your choice of theory.

#5 Counseling Session Role-Plays Assignment

You will be engaging in a unique DYAD placement, where each student is paired with a prospective mock client for the entire term. This method is designed to foster collaborative learning and peer-to-peer interaction even outside the traditional classroom setting. After each session, you will also complete a DAP note and Tx plan referencing the assigned theory for each DYAD. Templates for Feedback, DAP and Tx plan are accessible in CANVAS

When participating in counseling DYAD activities, it is essential to adhere to etiquette that fosters a supportive and respectful learning environment. Both participants should approach each session with professionalism, demonstrating punctuality, preparedness, and a commitment to active engagement.

Confidentiality is paramount; what is shared in the DYAD stays within the confines of the exercise to ensure a safe space for personal growth and learning. Listening attentively, being present, and providing thoughtful feedback are key components of effective communication. It is also crucial to maintain a positive and open-minded attitude and to show empathy towards your dyad partner's perspective. Any feedback should be offered with sensitivity and the intent to support, rather than criticize. Furthermore, technical preparedness, such as ensuring your equipment functions correctly and that you are free from distractions, contributes significantly to the smooth conduct of the session. In sum, the observance of proper DYAD etiquette helps to create a productive and mutually beneficial learning experience for both counseling students. After every DYAD session, you will be required to complete Tx Plans and DAPs, using predefined guidelines as prompts to ensure structured and relevant documentation.

#6 Case Analysis (5) – Refer to CANVAS

#7 Class Discussion & Rubric

This assignment involves a discussion post specifically designed and centered around the theme of advanced mental health techniques. You will respond to a specific question posted in CANVAS, where you will engage in meaningful communication about various mental health strategies. The discussion will include distinct categories for general discussions, specific techniques, recommended resources, and professional insights, all aimed at fostering a supportive community. Additionally, students are encouraged to formulate thought-provoking questions to initiate and sustain discussions, ensuring that the platform remains an active and enriching space for sharing knowledge and experiences related to components in the chapter and relative to mental well-being. Emphasis should be placed on creating a respectful environment where everyone feels safe to contribute. You will need to enter your response to the question posted and respond to another student's entry with a total of 2 entries at minimum per discussion.

	4-5pts	2-3pts	1-0pts
Engagement	Actively participates and encourages others	Responds with a deep understanding	Displays basic understanding but lacks depth in application to questions
Clarity and Coherence	Communicates ideas clearly and coherently, with well-structured arguments and examples.	Communicates ideas clearly, though some arguments may lack coherence or structure.	Ideas are somewhat clear but may be poorly organized or difficult to follow
Respect and Inclusivity	Actively promotes a respectful and inclusive environment, valuing diverse perspectives and experiences	Generally respectful but may not actively promote inclusivity or diverse perspectives	Lacks respect for others' viewpoints; does not contribute to an inclusive discussion.

#8 Exams

The exam is a comprehensive 50-point test designed to assess the your' understanding and proficiency in a variety of therapeutic methods essential for effective counseling. This exam encompasses a range of questions from multiple-choice and true/false to short essay responses - aimed at evaluating the students' knowledge of different counseling theories, communication skills, ethical considerations, and their ability to apply these techniques in real-life scenarios. It covers essential topics such as active listening, empathy expression, the utilization of open-ended questions, boundary setting, and the implementation of specific strategies tailored to diverse client needs. The exam is devised to challenge you to critically analyze case studies, demonstrate problem-solving skills, and articulate your reasoning behind choosing particular counseling approaches.

Some guidelines:

- Students are responsible for ensuring they have a reliable internet connection and
- compatible hardware/software to take the exam.
- Any deviations must be approved in advance, typically for accommodations.
- In the event of technical difficulties, students should contact the instructor or technical support immediately

Course Policies

Late Work

As part of academic integrity and commitment to fairness, a 5% deduction from the total achievable score of the assignment will be applied for each day an assignment is submitted past the due date. This penalty is put into effect immediately after the deadline has passed and will accumulate daily to a maximum of 25%. Please be aware that after a period of five days, no further deductions will be imposed; however, the maximum late penalty will have been reached. This measure is in place to encourage punctual submissions and ensure that all students are provided with an equitable opportunity to demonstrate their understanding of the course material within the intended timeframe.

Extra Credit

Extra credit opportunities in this class are offered on a random basis and are not a guaranteed component of the course. These opportunities are designed to encourage students to engage more deeply with the material and to reward exceptional effort. The specifics of each extra credit assignment will vary and are to be discussed in detail during class sessions. Students are encouraged to stay attentive and participate actively in class discussions to ensure they are aware of these chances to enhance their grade. It's important to note that while extra credit can provide a boost, it should not be relied upon as a primary means of achieving your desired grade in the course.

Changes to the Syllabus

While the provisions of this syllabus are as accurate and complete as possible, your instructor reserves the right to change any provision herein at any time. Every effort will be made to keep you advised of such changes, and information about such changes will be available from your instructor

Grades of Incomplete

In the context of course grades where work is incomplete, it is imperative that both instructor and student engage in a constructive dialogue to assess the situation and arrive at a feasible solution. This collaboration aims to find a balance between academic rigor and accommodating unforeseen circumstances that may have prevented the student from completing their work on time. The instructor, cognizant of the student's individual circumstances, will delineate the specific criteria for the extended deadline, detailing what assignments are expected to be completed. This agreement will be transparent and mutually understood to ensure that the student is fully aware of the requirements they must meet. It should be noted that there is a firm boundary regarding the time frame for such extensions; no extensions will be granted that exceed the commencement of the next academic term.

This ensures that all course work is concluded by a definitive cutoff point, which is the first day of the subsequent term, maintaining the integrity and orderly progression of the academic calendar

Final Grades

A = 590 -580 or 100 – 90%

B = 579– 469 or 89 – 79%

468 and below = repeat the course

Important Information

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty is an essential aspect of all learning, scholarship, and research. It is one of the values regarded most highly by academic communities throughout the world. Violations of the principle of academic honesty are extremely serious and will not be tolerated.

Students are responsible for promoting academic honesty at Chaminade by not participating in any act of dishonesty and by reporting any incidence of academic dishonesty to an instructor or to a University official. Academic dishonesty may include theft of records or examinations, alteration of grades, and plagiarism, in addition to more obvious dishonesty.

Questions of academic dishonesty in a particular class are first reviewed by the instructor, who must make a report with recommendations to the Dean of the Academic Division. Punishment for academic dishonesty will be determined by the instructor and the Dean of Academic Division and may include an “F” grade for the work in question, an “F” grade for the course, suspension, or dismissal from the University.

For the most up to date information, please refer to the Academic Honesty Policy on the Chaminade University Catalog website.

CUH Alert Emergency Notification

To get the latest emergency communication from Chaminade University, students' cell numbers will be connected to Chaminade's emergency notification text system. When you log in to the Chaminade portal, you will be asked to provide some emergency contact information. If you provide a cellphone number, you will receive a text from our emergency notification system asking you to confirm your number. You must respond to that message to complete your registration and get emergency notifications on your phone.

Assessment for Student Work

With the goal of continuing to improve the quality of educational services offered to students, Chaminade University conducts assessments of student achievement of course, program, and institutional learning outcomes. Student work is used anonymously as the basis of these assessments, and the work you do in this course may be used in these assessment efforts.

Student with Disabilities Statement

Chaminade University of Honolulu offers accommodations for all actively enrolled students with disabilities in compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, and the ADA Amendments Act (2008).

Students are responsible for contacting Kokua Ike: Center for Student Learning to schedule an appointment. Verification of their disability will be requested through appropriate documentation and once received it will take up to approximately 2–3 weeks to review them. Appropriate paperwork will be completed by the student before notification will be sent out to their instructors.

Accommodation paperwork will not be automatically sent out to instructors each semester, as the student is responsible to notify Kokua Ike via email at ada@chaminade.edu each semester if changes or notifications are needed.
