

WE '01
Pms

SYLLABUS

History 151: World Civilizations I

Chaminade University Winter Evening Session 2001
Pearl Harbor: Saturdays, January 13 - March 10, 2001

Instructor: Carol Stimson
Tel: 262-0789; email: stimson@aloha.net

Course description: This survey of world history from ancient times to 1600 examines historical ideas, movements, events, and personalities in a variety of cultures and time periods and looks for ongoing trends that influence our lives today.

Text: Philip J. Adler, World Civilizations, Volume One, 2nd edition.

Assignments:

1. You are expected to read the chapters assigned from the textbook and to formulate one or two questions on the reading before class. You are encouraged to participate in class or group discussions, and you may be asked to complete some short assignment -- a quiz, impromptu essay, short oral report or the like -- during each class period.
 2. You are expected to choose two books from the supplemental reading list, read a segment of about 100 pages of each, and write a two-to-three-page report on what you read. Your report should identify the historical context and thesis or main theme(s) of the passage, show through specific examples how the author develops the thesis, and focus on a particular aspect of the book that interests you. Be prepared to give an impromptu oral presentation based on each book report.
 3. You are expected to take three exams, two mid-terms and a final, based on the lectures and the readings. For the midterms, you will be given five or six exam questions to study in advance, three of which will appear on the exam. In class, you will be asked to answer two of the three alternatives in essays of about two pages each.
- The final exam will follow the same format for the essays but will include an additional section, format to be announced.

Grading: Assignments will be weighted as follows:

Each of three exams:	20% of your grade
Each of two book reports:	15% of your grade
Class participation:	10% of your grade

Attendance: You are expected to attend all classes and complete all exams and reports on time unless you are called away by military duty, illness, or other emergency. Please let me know in advance if you will be absent.

Class schedule:

January 13: Read Chapters 1, 2, and 3.

January 20: Read Chapters 4, 5, 6, and 7.
 January 27: First midterm exam. Read Chapters 8, 9, and 10.
 February 3: Read Chapters 11, 12, and 13. First book report due.
 February 10: Read Chapters 14, 15, and 16.
 February 17: Second midterm exam. Read Chapters 17, 18, and 19.
 February 24: Read Chapters 20, 21, and 22.
 March 3: Read Chapters 23, 24, and 25.
 March 10: Read Chapters 26 and 27. Second book report due.
 March 17: Final exam.

READING LIST

Epic of Gilgamesh
Old Testament
New Testament
 Homer, Iliad
 Homer, Odyssey
 Herodotus, The Persian Wars
 Thucydides, History of the Peloponnesian War (Penguin edition)
 Polybius, The Histories
 Livy, History of Rome
 Virgil, Aeneid
 Plutarch, Lives
 Flavius Josephus, The Jewish War
 Juvenal, The Satires
 Augustine, Confessions
 Gregory of Tours, History of the Franks
 Otto of Friesing, The Two Cities
 Bede, Ecclesiastical History of the English Nation
 Murasaki Shikibu, Tale of Genji
 Francisco Guicciardini, The History of Italy
 Machiavelli, Florentine Histories
 Ruy Gonzalez de Clavijo, Embassy to Tamerlane 1403-1406.
Bhagavad Gita
 Ibn Batuta, Travels in Asia and Africa
 Ibn Khaldun, The Mugaddimah: An Introduction to History
 Chien ssu-ma, Records of the Grand Historian of China
 Marco Polo, The Travels of Marco Polo
 Bartolome de Las Casas, The Devastation of the Indies.
 Miguel Leon-Portilla, The Broken Spears