Textbook: McKay, John P. et al. A History of World Societies, Volume II since 1500.
4th ed. Boston: Houghton Mifflin Co., 1996.

Course Description: This course is a survey of world civilization from the Age of Discovery to the present. The content will examine the development of world history and societies and its impact on the transformation of multicultural world history into the complex interactive continents, peoples and cultures of today.

Course Objectives: At the end of the course, each student should;

- 1) Know the methods used by historians and other researchers to uncover the past.
- 2) Demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of the various factors that contribute to the rise of the peoples and cultures of today.
- 3) Communicate orally and in writing factual highlights of significant events, or persons of the past.
- 4) Work cooperatively within a group to achieve a common goal.
- 5) Be able to analyze historical data to show similarities and contrasts among world civilizations.

Grading: Students are expected to:

- 1) Regularly attend class.
- 2) Be responsible for all material covered in class.
- 3) Actively participate in class discussion and activities as directed by the instructor.

- 4) Present oral reports on assigned topics and current events.
- 5) Work effectively within a group.

Student grading will be evaluated as follow:

- 1) Two short answer quizzes - 20%
- 2) Two essays examinations (one midterm, one final) - 40%
- 3) One paper (5 - 7 pgs.) plus an oral presentation - 30%
- 4) Weekly assignments - 10%

Weekly Assignments: As part of the homework assignments, students are required to turn in weekly assignments. The assignments will be discussed at each class session. Students should retain these for future reference on the midterm and final exam.

Guidelines for Papers:

- 1) Each student will compose an 5-7 page paper.
- 2) Each paper must be typed, double spaced,
- 3) Margins all around may not exceed one inch.
- 4) Font size may not exceed 12 pitch, pages must be numbered.
- 5) You must consult and make reference to at least 3 different sources (excluding the text and encyclopedias). A bibliography is required.
- 6) Your research should be balanced. Consult different types of materials.
- 7) Include some critical analysis, do not primarily recitate historical facts.
- 8) Proofread your papers for grammatical and typographical errors.
- 9) Papers are due on the day of the final exam.
