Winter evening Session:
 January 8 through March 17, 2001.

Course: HI 152 World Civilizations II

Instructor: Mr. Kevin Allen

Telephone: (808) 735-4860

email: kallen@chaminade.edu

Textbook: Adler, Philip J. World Civilizations: Volume II since 1500. Stamford, CT: Thomson Learning, 2000.

Course Description: This course is a survey of world civilization from the Age of Discovery to the present. The content will examine the development of world history and societies and its impact on the transformation of multicultural world history into the complex interactive continents, peoples and cultures of today.

Course Objectives: At the end of the course, each student should;

- 1) Know the methods used by historians and other researchers to uncover the past.
- 2) Demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of the various factors that contribute to the rise of the peoples and cultures of today.
- 3) Communicate via discussions and in writing factual highlights of significant events, or persons of the past.
- 4) Be able to analyze historical data to show similarities and contrasts among world civilizations.

Student Responsibility:

- 1) Participate actively in directed web board discussions.
- 2) Be responsible for all material covered in class.
- 3) Complete class assignments.
- 4) Troubleshoot your own computer technical problems.

Grading:

Grading will be done on a point scale. There is a maximum of 200 points possible with variations. See below:

Point Scale:

200 - A

160 - B
120 - C
80 - D
40 - F

Point accumulation is based upon 2 essay exams, discussion questions, homework and a final paper.

Two essay examinations:

- a) A take home mid-term-25 pt.
- b) A final exam in person at the time of the last class meeting.-25 pt.

The exams will consist of short answer questions drawn from weekly assignments.

Discussion Questions-70 pt.

Students are required to read online lectures and respond to the appropriate questions posted on the webboard. Postings are to be submitted for the specified week. Late submissions will be penalized 1 pt. per day.

Weekly Homework assignments-70 pt.

Students are required to turn in weekly homework assignments via email. Assignments are to be completed within the specified week. Late assignments will be docked 1 pt. for each day late. The assignments will consist of the following:

Assignment 1) A short research activity pertinent to the reading topic for the week.

Assignment 2) Two essay questions. (From which I will draw the questions for the midterm and final) I expect questions to be at least a page in length and fully answered.

Assignment 3) A compilation of 6-8 identification questions.

Details for each weekly homework assignment will be on the web board. Weekly evaluative comments on the homework will be emailed to students by the instructor. It is highly recommended that you do the assignments in detail, as they will help you in answering the questions on the final and midterm.

One Final Paper: A final paper (5-7) pages -10 pt.

Guidelines for Papers:

1) Subject matter: a topic that is of interest to you that falls within the time period of 1500 to the present.

2) Each student will compose a 5-7 page paper.

3) You must consult and make reference in the paper to at least 3 different sources (excluding the text and encyclopedias). A bibliography is required. (APA or MLA format)

3) Your research should be balanced. Consult different types of materials.

4) Include some critical analysis, do not primarily recitate historical facts.

5) Proofread your papers for grammatical and typographical errors.

6) Papers are due during the week of instruction of March 10,2001.

7) Font size "12" points, double spaced.
