ORGANIZATION: This course consists of 10 classes on Thursday evenings as outlined below. Classes begin at 5:30 p.m. and end at 9:40 p.m. The format of the course is lecture but there will be film presentations and some class discussions.

GRADES: Your grade for this course will be determined by your performance on the mid-term and final examinations and on your paper. The mid-term will count for 35%, the paper for 20% and the final for 45%. However, your final exam will be given greater consideration should it demonstrate substantial improvement over your mid-term. Each exam will consist of essay questions that will require you to write a series of paragraphs made up of complete sentences. Please bring paper, preferably 8 1/2" x 11", to the mid-term and final. If you would like to have your final returned, and/or you would like to receive your grade for this course from the instructor, please bring a self-addressed stamped envelope during any of the next 9 classes. This is the ONLY way to receive your grade from the instructor. Your grade for the course will be written on your final examination paper. No one will pass the course unless both examinations and the paper are completed.

ATTENDANCE: University regulations require that attendance be taken and that instances of two (2) consecutive unexcused/unreported absences be reported to the Dean. This policy will be followed. In addition, it is virtually impossible to be successful in this course without attending the classes.

PROCEDURES: Please feel free to ask questions at any time during the classes. The use of sound recorders is strongly discouraged as they will inhibit your academic development.

GENERAL OVERVIEW: A survey of American development from 1607 to 1865. Political, economic and social foundations of institutions and cultures which still exercise an influence in the modern nation are stressed.
