TEXT: Understanding Human Sexuality
Janet Shibley Hyde/John DeLamater (McGraw Hill; 7th Edition)
Sexually Speaking
J. Davis Mannino (McGraw Hill)

TERM: Winter 2000 Jul. 11 - - Sep. 12 Tuesdays 4:45 p.m. - 8:55 p.m.

Course Description: The role of psychology in human experience as it relates to sexuality: development of individual self-concepts regarding sexuality as they relate to locally accepted behavior.

Course Goals and Objectives: To gain an understanding of the scientific study of human sexuality and an increased wisdom of individual self-concepts regarding sexuality. Explore the nature of sexual development (biological, cognitive, social, emotional, personality) along with current problems and health issues. This mode of investigation should allow for a controlled inquiry to develop an objective, effective, and credible way of knowing.

Methods and Procedures: Text study, lectures/discussions, videos, guest speakers, projects/class presentations, and exams. Exams will be a combination of multiple choice, fill in the blank, and essay.

Grading: Class presentation - 15% (45 points) Participation - 25% (75 points)
Mid -Term Exam - 30% (90 points) Final Exam - 30% (90 points)

Class Participation

During each class attendance will be taken. Class attendance and participation will be used to compute your final grade. If you are unable to attend a session please advise me in advance if at all possible either via e-mail, phone, or in class.

Class Paper/Presentation

The purpose of the project is for you the student to gain information on the subject of human sexuality. To accomplish this you will conduct research and deliver a class presentation on an area of human sexuality; i.e. anatomy, hormones, contraception, morals. The paper will be turned into the instructor at the time of your presentation. Paper will be between 4 – 6 pages in length, APA format. Cover sheet and bio-sheet do not count towards length of paper.

Your research project must be approved in advance by the instructor, all topics must be submitted by 1 August 2000 for approval. After your topic has been approved

Presentations will be given on 29 August 2000 and 5 September 2000 on a first come first serve basis. Based on the sign up sheet.

A sign up sheet for presentation scheduling will be available on 1 August 2000 after all topics have been approved.

Handwritten notes and signatures at the bottom right of the page, including a date "00.00" and a signature.
